

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We would like to express thanks and appreciation for all of the love, prayers, and support shown to us at this time. If you sent a card, brought a dish, or maybe it was a warm embrace, a sympathetic word, perhaps you sat with us, or you prayed with and for us; in whatever way your love and concern was expressed, it helped to make a heavy burden lighter. For this, we thank you.

The family will receive guests immediately following the memorial service at LaVera Party Center

Obituary

Kendall Jeffrey Lewis was born in Cleveland, Ohio on November 14, 1960. Kendall was born to Clarence Lewis, Jr. and Bernice Mildred Lewis, who both preceded him in death.

Kendall graduated from East High in 1978 and considered himself a 'Bomber for Life.' He attended Ohio University in Athens, Ohio and the Ohio School of Broadcasting. Kendall started studying the Bible with Jehovah's Witnesses along with his mother and was baptized on October 31, 1978.

In 1979 he met Felecia McDowell. A great friendship developed between them which resulted in their uniting in marriage on March 5, 1988. Kendall joined his wife in Greenville, South Carolina, where the two served together helping people to learn about the Bible and God's Kingdom. While expanding their ministry, the couple was thrilled to welcome their one and only child, Kendra Jenise on September 17, 1989. Kendall was a devoted husband and father. He deeply loved his wife and daughter.

For years, Kendall was a larger than life radio and television personality for Fox Sports, WKNR, ESPN, WOIO and many others. He loved sports, was well respected for his sports knowledge and often spoke fondly of the professionals he worked with during his career. Kendall was a trailblazer and inspired many of his young fans to pursue a career in broadcasting. However, the love he had for sports paled in comparison to his love of helping people increase their knowledge of God's word the Bible! He loved his spiritual family and attending Christian meetings at the Kingdom Hall.

To cherish his loving memory, Kendall leaves, wife Felecia, daughter Kendra, siblings Jerome Cargile (Marilyn), Valeria Cargile, Gerald Cargile, Clarence Lewis III (Victoria), a host of nephews, nieces, other relatives, many friends and over 8 million spiritual brothers and sisters.
